County Line

Glad to see the sun shining this A. M., after so much rain and cloudy weather.

Our community was saddened last Wednesday when news came that Mr. Edward Harris of Pamplix had passed away at Virginia Baptist Hospital.

Mr. Harris had a major operation and seemed to be recovering, when there was a sudden turn for the worse. His wife is the former Leila Jones, of here.

Those who called here for the funeral were: Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jones Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Jones, all of Richmond; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Jones, of Newport News, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Jordan, of Falmouth, Va. All of these visited with relatives during the time.

Those on the sick list recently were Mrs. Dan Irby, Clyde Mayberry, and Robert Mullin.

Mr. Curtis Mayberry was hurt in an accident at the place where he works near Lynchburg.

Mrs. Dan Irby and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Irby were recent visitors of relatives in Pittsylvania Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mullin and David Mayberry visited relatives in Lynchburg Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones have returned from a trip to Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Mert Burnette and son-in law visited Mr. and Mrs. Otey Jones recently.

The ladies enjoyed a quilting at the home of Miss Emma Hair last Thursday.

ELEMENTARY P.-T. A. HAS COFFEE HOUR

The P.-T. A. of the Appomattox Elementary School was hostess at a coffee hour in the school cafeteria on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. This was in honor of the student teachers from Longwood College, who are doing practice teaching in the school at this time.

Mrs. S. R. Lawson and Mrs. Fred Smith acted as hostesses at the refreshment table.

Longwood students who are presently serving as student teachers in the school are: Frances Norman Williamsburg first grade; Sue Caravella, Tampa, Florida, second grade; Betty Patteson, Lynchburg, fifth grade; Winnie Ezolf, Annandale, sixth grade, and Nancy Jackson, Wyliesburg, sixth grade.

Also present was Kate Trent, of the education department of the college and visiting supervisor to the school.

Room mothers were in each room while the regular teachers and student teachers were in the cafeteria.

The P.-T. A. has recently purchased furniture for the teacher's Lounge, located in the elementary section of the school. This consists of a couch, four chairs, three tables, two lamps, and a rug of Danish style.

Committee members for this special project were Mrs. Martin Webb, Mrs. Charles T. Moses, Jr.; and Mrs. Mark Weatherley, patrons, and Mrs. Cecil Ligon, Mrs. Marshall Cunningham, and Mrs. DeWitt Evans, chairman, teachers.
